Join us in Amsterdam!

Amsterdam offers the visitor a wealth of attractions, ranging from its many museums, colourful seas of tulips, charming canals and Dutch gable architecture. Amsterdam has all the advantages of a big city, with all the convenience and charm of an historic village. It is compact and easily accessible, yet it has a buzzing cosmopolitan atmosphere and an energetic cultural scene. The excitement and charm of Amsterdam lies in the variety it packs into its tight web of canals. World-class museums, chic and quirky shops and a large range of restaurants, cosy cafés and trendy clubs are to be found behind the beautiful old façades, all within walking distance of one of Europe's best-preserved historical centres. With its fantastic attractions and convenient travel connections, Amsterdam provides a great location for World Ethanol 2007. We look forward to seeing you there!

Over the past ten years interest in ethanol as a green fuel has exploded

In ten years, world production has risen by 150% and the volume traded internationally has more than doubled. In 1998 when we held our first World Ethanol conference only a handful of countries used fuel ethanol, today there are dozens of active biofuel programmes covering all five continents. As the industry has grown in importance so have the opportunities and challenges. The climate change debate will continue to be a powerful driver for the industry. Policy initiatives in the US, Brazil, the EU and many Asian countries provide for a strongly growing market share for biofuels. At the same time the food vs. fuel and sustainability debate has taken centre stage. There is no doubt that ethanol will increasingly become a topic that will feature in international trade agreements as the market matures, affecting all stakeholders in the industry.

This year, to celebrate our 10th anniversary and in response to the explosive growth of the industry, we have expanded our programme to offer you more expert insight into this dynamic sector and more opportunities to do business with your colleagues from all over the world. World Ethanol 2007 includes a 3-day Main Conference, a Risk Management Seminar and Production Workshop, as well as a number of special events. The first day of the conference is devoted to a World Ethanol Leaders Summit which gives you a unique chance to share the insights of the top level decision-makers who will shape the future of the industry. Parallel sessions on feedstock markets, technology, marketing and finance mean that whatever your specific focus, you will hear the latest developments at World Ethanol 2007.

This year we have brought together a distinguished international speaker panel making World Ethanol 2007 an exceptional opportunity to network with influential executives from all sectors and discuss the opportunities and challenges with key decision-makers.

World Ethanol's 10th Anniversary Conference will be a celebration of the achievements of the ethanol industry over the past decade, as well as an excellent opportunity to debate the issues affecting you and your industry and network with executives from all over the world. We look forward to welcoming both new and familiar faces to World Ethanol 2007.

12.15 - 1.45	Lunch	4.45 - 5.30	Overview/Wrap-Up and Q&A

Since last year, the worldwide ethanol markets have been growing and some of the principal feedstocks have exhibited extraordinary volatility and price strength. Every company in the business or considering being in the business must know how to manage this form of price and profit margin risk for the future. The markets for corn, DDGS, ethanol and related commodities are not likely to become less volatile soon, but only more volatile and each company must establish systems and talent to manage this risk.

Informa Economics, Inc. is the premier risk management company serving world agriculture, food and energy and they will bring their practical experience and know how to assist you and your firm to better manage your ethanol margin risks. The 2nd Annual Ethanol Risk Management Seminar will focus on market issues; philosophy and approach to risk management; systems, futures, options, derivative and over-the-counter markets; and provide global examples that will apply for a diverse group of attendees.

Day 1 Monday - 5th November 2007

World Ethanol Production Workshop

Maximising Ethanol Production Efficiency for Beverage, Industrial and Fuel Uses

Why you cannot afford to miss this Workshop!

- Gain a technical understanding of the end-to-end ethanol production process
- Increase the efficiency and profitability of ethanol production
- Expand your understanding on energy issues and energy alternatives
- Capitalise on advancements in enzyme technology
- Compare production techniques for a range of feedstocks
- Achieve optimum air quality and emissions control

World Ethanol Leaders Summit

8.00 Welcome Coffee

9.15 Opening Remarks from the Chair

Bob Dinneen

CEO & President
Renewable Fuels Association (RFA), USA

Bob Dinneen is the President and CEO of the Renewable Fuels Association (RFA), the national trade association for the U.S. ethanol industry. As such, he is the ethanol industry's lead lobbyist before the Congress and Administration. In this capacity he has led the association's effort to build coalitions with the industry's petroleum customers as well as transportation and environmental groups in order to provide for marketplace growth for the industry. These coalitions have resulted in an historic Renewable Fuels Standard (RFS) fuels agreement and passage of the Volumetric Ethanol Excise Tax Credit (VEETC).

9.30 Outlook for World Production and Trade

- The production and trade dynamics for ethanol
- Political risks for producers
- Will production costs continue to rise?

Christoph Berg

Managing Director
F.O.Licht® Germany

Christoph Berg is Managing Director at the commodity analysts F.O. Licht. F.O. Licht monitors the global soft commodities markets. It reports regularly on sugar, coffee, tea, molasses, ethanol and biofuels, with reports in print and online. Their biofuels publication - F.O. Licht's World Ethanol & Biofuels Report gives news, comment, analysis and statistics on fuel ethanol, biodiesel, industrial and beverage alcohol markets worldwide.

10.00 Ethanol Growth Opportunities: Europe vs. USA

- Regulatory and financing differences
- Ethanol marketplace differences
- Risk management differences
- Markets outlook

Javier Salgado

CEO
Abengoa Bioenergy, USA

Javier Salgado is the Chief Executive Officer and President of Abengoa Bioenergy Corporation, which is headquartered in St. Louis, Missouri, and owns and operates three ethanol production facilities in Kansas, Nebraska, and New Mexico, with a fourth under construction. He is also the CEO and President of the Abengoa Bioenergy Business Group, one of the five business divisions of Abengoa, S.A., a Spanish public company traded on the Madrid Stock Exchange. Javier is leading the integration and expansion of the European and American operations of the Bioenergy group. The business group headquarters are also located in St. Louis, Missouri, with associated offices in Madrid and Seville. In addition to the U.S. corporation, the business group owns and operates three ethanol production facilities in Spain.

10.30 The Brazilian Growth Model

- Cane production growth and ethanol opportunities
- The large opportunities in co-generation
- Cosan's strategy in terms of biofuel investments and building new capacity
- Investing in co-generation, mechanisation of the fields, yield improvements, and industrial efficiency

Marcos Lutz

Chief Commercial Officer
COSAN, Brazil

Marcos Lutz works as the Chief Commercial Officer for COSAN. With 17 manufacturing units and two port terminals in the city of Santos, COSAN currently is the largest individual group in the world in terms of sugarcane byproducts manufacturing. With capacity to grind more than 40 million tonnes of sugarcane, the group represents 12% of overall production in the mid-southern region of Brazil.

Online Networking System

Our Online Networking System enables registered delegates to see the list of conference attendees and send messages to them before the conference.

11.50 Outlook for Ethanol Production in France

- A sustainable agriculture to provide energy for food, feed and fuel
- An increased industrial capacity to provide ethanol to the EU's growing market
- Developing the consistency of 2nd and 1st generation biofuels
- Ability to provide more ethanol than is necessary for the average EU target

Philippe Duval

Chairman of the Executive Board
Tereos, France

Philippe Duval is Chairman of the Executive Board. Tereos has 32 factories, employs over 17,000 employees and its sales turnover in 2007/2008 will be higher than 3 million euros. The company is present in 6 European Countries (France, Great Britain, Belgium, Italy, Spain and Czech Republic), in Brazil and in the Indian Ocean (Reunion Island and Mozambique). Tereos is one of the main global producers of sugar, alcohol, ethanol and glucose.

12.20 The Role of Equity Funds in the Biofuel Sector

- A new mindset in the market... how funds think and approach business valuation and risk
- Traditional investor vs dynamic agents for change eg value hunter, turnaround manager, consolidator, vulture
- Case Study: Clean Energy Brazil
- Future evolution of the Brazilian cane sector: The different phases and participants that will lead to the consolidation of the sector over the next 10 years

Peter Thompson

Board Director
Czarnikow Group, UK

Peter Thompson joined Czarnikow in 1992 and is a Board Director of Czarnikow Group with responsibility for the company's Brazilian business. Czarnikow provides market, advisory, risk management, commercial and financial services in sugar and ethanol to about one third of the cane sector. Czarnikow Corporate Services based in Sao Paulo is active in Mergers, Acquisitions and Corporate Finance working for both sugar millers and new investors in the sector. Peter is also Chairman of Temple Capital Partners the investment advisor to Clean Energy Brazil PLC which was launched on London AIM market in December 2006.

Philippe Reichstul

CEO
Brenco, Brazil

Guenther Buck

VP Renewable Energies
Unilever, Switzerland

Martin von Lampe

Agricultural Economist/Policy Analyst
Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, France

4.00 The Next Frontier in Biofuels Production

- Four issues constrain growth of biofuels - cost, availability, quality and sustainability
- Technology will help via lignocellulosics, energy crops, plant modification and advanced conversion
- Regulatory support is also necessary for the sustainable development of the industry - encouraging a progressive approach and minimising the risk of unintended consequences
- Achieving higher penetration levels of biofuels - current constraints and future options for going beyond 10%

Philip New

President, Global Biofuels
BP, UK

Philip New leads BP's recently established biofuels business. The business is intended to position BP as a leader in the Biofuels industry; defining and implementing a business development strategy, establishing a distinctive and progressive voice in the shaping of the industry, investing in capability and capacity growth, and building strategic relationships.
